The polyester fibre panel is a decorative material made of polyester fiber, which is made by hot pressing and has a sound absorbing function. It can be flat or 3D moulded polyester fibre panels. Manufacturing of polyester fibre panel is done in China.

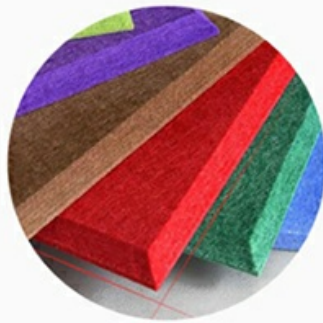

The non woven polyester fibre panels are synthesized by hot pressing by providers of polyester fibre panels, and the porosity is above 90%. The sound absorbing performance of the polyester fibre panels is good in the medium and high frequency range. The polyester fibre nonwoven 9mm panels have the advantages of heat insulation, fireproof, dustproof, light weight, non-corrosion, etc. It also has good sound absorption effect, high strength, good decoration, convenient construction and environmental protection.
